

bitternepark.info

Full-time A Level and vocational courses
Part-time adult learning
Tel: 023 80367200 | www.barton-peveril.ac.uk

Community news for Bitterne Park and nearby areas since 2005

You are Here: Home > News > Fishy family activities at Riverside Park 20 May 2016

- MAIN MENU
- Home
 - News
 - Bitterne Parker
 - Local history
 - About
 - Book an ad
 - Support Us
 - What's on
 - Shop
 - Local Info
 - Noticeboard
 - Search
 - Contact us
 - Sign in
 - Sign up
 - Terms of use
 - Cookie Policy
 - Portswood

John Lewis quality at reassuringly low prices. Shop now >

Get free updates straight to your inbox! Sign up below for our weekly(ish) email digest, and don't miss a thing! You can unsubscribe at any time.

email address

Subscribe

Fishy family activities at Riverside Park

Thursday, 19 May 2016 11:14

Many activities to enjoy with your family are promised at Riverside Park on Saturday, May 21, marking 'World Fish Migration Day'.

The University of Southampton's International Centre for Ecohydraulics Research (ICER) will be setting up a stand to showcase their work on the environmental impacts on fish, according to the World Fish Migration Day website.

The idea is to showcase work carried out by researchers, raise awareness about environmental issues impacting fish, such as feeding ducks alternatives to bread, and opportunities to look at smaller creatures living in freshwater.

There are also further attractions for children.

The stand will be staffed by researchers and students, and the public can drop by and ask questions.

The stand will be nearer the Woodmill Lane end of Riverside Park, running from 10am until 4pm.

Tweet Next >

Please log in to post comments. If you don't yet have an account, it's quick to register here

Try Graham's Wellbeing Bread
It's the slice for life!

"bitternepark.info keeps us informed about what's going on, and helps the community stick together and act together."
Robert Buller-Boss

LATEST NEWS

1. Fishy family activities at Riverside Park
2. Personal experiences of working towards a PhD
3. Become more deaf aware
4. Talking about culture in Southampton

Follow @bitternepark

POPULAR

- Bitterne Park - a village within a city?
- How to post your listing
- Airport expansion nightmare
- Who wanted this, again?
- All change at the